LOCAL CANNERY TO OPEN ON JULY FIRST

Owing to the unsettled condition of the weather so far this season, the Pratt-Low Preserving Company's plant heer has delayed opening, but will begin operations on July 1st, it was announced this week. The first crop to be used in the local plant will be apricots. This will be followed by peaches and pears.

Since the closing of the plant last season, the whole place has been overhauled under the direction of J. A. Gibson, new manager of the local plant, and formerly with the company at their Santa Clora cannery. Several new pieces of machinery have been installed, and the grounds surrounding the plant have been cleaned.

When the plant is opened next month between five and six hundred employees will be on the company's pay roll. A large number of women and girls have already secured employment here for the summer, but registration is still open and many more will be needed for the season's work. A busy year is expected at the plant, as the pear and peach crops this year are the lorgest in many years.

The crop of apricots was very promising until the recent rains, which have damaged much of this fruit. In preparation of this big year the Pratt-Low plant here has been receiving cans for some time past, and one million are now stored at the plant in this city for the canning season. Four thiusand sacks of sugar are also on hand.

STREET WORK ASKED BY PROPERTY OWNERS

This will be a banner year for street work in Redwood City from all appearances, as already a large number of streets are being improved, and several others will soon be started. At the meeting of the Board of Trustees of Redwood City last Monday evening petitions were received from property owners in three sections of town, asking that street work be done. The streets asked for in the petitions this week include parts of Adams, Vera, Myrtle, Jackson, Madison and Spring streets. In all three petitions, the property owners ask that the streets be improved with Portland cement, laid according to the Vibrolithic process.

A representative of the Vibrolithic Company was present at the meeting as well as a large number of the signers of the petitions. These urged the board to begin the work on the streets as soon as possible. The board voted to proceed with the work, and on a motion of Trustee Mabie, instructed the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications for this work.

SAN CARLOS PIONEER PASSES AWAY THERE

Mrs. Mary Hooker Smith, pioneer resident of San Carlos passed away at her home there Monday. Funeral services were held Wednesday from the home of the deceased, Rev. James L. Gordon of the Congregational church of San Francisco conducted the services. The interment was in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

The following tribute was written to Mrs. Smith by a neighbor and friend:

Mrs. Mary Hooker Smith, widow of the lat Captain S. T. Smith, treasurer of the Southern Pacific Co. died Monday at her home in San Carlos after an illness of three weeks. A peaceful ending of an eventful life full of good deeds. Although advanced in years, she had the appearance, the alertness, the keen mind and interest in all things pertaining to the betterment of conditions of a woman of fifty years.

Her very presence radiated love and kindness. No one appealed to her in vain for she was always ready to help in every way. Her strong personality, her great charm of manner, her unfailing cheerfulness and sympathy won her a host of friends and their loss seems now to be irreparable.

Mrs. Smith was born in Hinsdale, Vermont, but came to California at an early age. She leaves a number of relatives in the east and California. Mrs. Ida Stewart of Los Angeles, a niece, was with her at the end.

San Carlos was the conception of Captain Smith, Timothy Hopkins and a few associates, who laid out the townsite about forty-five years ago. The Captain and Mrs. Smith built in San Carlos at that time and their comfortable home and beautiful grounds have been a great asset to the community and the Captain and Mrs. Smith were neighbors and friends in every sense of the word.

The spring weather seems to have been particularly favorable to the mumps and the affliction has reached almost to the dignity of an epidemic during the past few weeks. Three members of the Langley family are the latest unfortunates. Those who have not had the mumps are inclined to refer to them with a laugh, but I am informed by those who have gone through the siege that it is no laughing matter.

Tulare—Tulare Co-operative Poultry Association reports $40,000 business in April, the largest month in history of company.

The opening of the Kiwanis International convention at Saint Paul Minnesota, Monday night, June 22, Delegates B. E. Myers and E. B. Hinman of the local club will attend the "All Kiwanis Night" program while members here will observe a somewhat similar affair and the synchronized "Zero Hour" when all clubs in the United States and Canada, simultaneously with the convention hour, will pay impressive silent tribute to the ever-strenghtening friendship and fellowship of Kiwanis.

The "Zero Hour" period will last 15 minutes, and include the "Fellowship Moment of Silence," singing "America" and "God Save the King," the reading of the message of Victor M. Johnson, of Rockford, Illinois, president of Kiwanis International, and the "Onward Kiwanis" song.

With the business of the convention opening, both the local delegates will be busy attending sessions devoted to reports by International committees dealing with education, business standards, inter-club relations, and the under-privileged child, all major projects of Kiwanis.

On Tuesday evening, June 23, the annual President's reception and ball will be held in the Saint Paul coliseum and will be attended by the 500 visiting Kiwanians. An innovation, that of a Mid-summer Ice Carnival, is another feature. The annual election of International officers for the ensuing year and the choosing of a convention city for 1926 are two of the outstanding undertakings of the 4-day session. Memphis, Tennessee; Montreal, Canada; and the New England district in behalf of the Boston club, are bidding for next year's convention honors.

Dedication of the Harding Memorial, a Kiwanian tribute to the memory of the late president and a monument to international good will, will take place in Stanley Park, Vancouver, B. C., on Wednesday, September 16th, it was announced.

THE AGE OF JUNK

THIS has been called by those versed in such things the Iron Age. After a long ride which we took last Sunday in this and neighboring counties we would suggest that it is the Scrap Iron Age, for so it would appear. Down near Saratoga in one of the most beautiful regions of the state, the traveler fairly drinks in the landscape until he finds that the drink is spoiled by piles of tin cans that people have left along the road to get rid of them. A little farther along, he sees what appears at a distance to be a beautiful stream among the trees. Coming closer our traveler finds that it has been a stream but is now filled with old cans, auto fenders, a gas range or two, and several of the ubiquitious worn out tires.

On the beach, and we have some of the finest beaches in the country, where everything should be beautiful, one finds piles of tin cans. It would appear that those who go to the beach to spend the day must gather all their old cans at home and take them along to leave them.

And speaking of tires, did you ever notice them? They hang along the fences in the country like life preservers on the rail of a ship. Guide posts are decorated with them, and very few mountain streams that cannot boast of one or two.

And while we are on the subject of junk, did you ever wonder what becomes of all the Sunday editions with the fifty pages or so of magazine section, the comics, and all the rest? If you have ever driven along the flower dotted highways in the country, you would know. They lodge in the fence corners in piles. They gather in the bushes and in the grass, in the trees and along the roads, and lend to the scenery an altogether novel appearance, like giant snow flakes, but less picturesque.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT

WHEN called upon to name someone to fill a vacancy on the advisory board of the San Mateo County Community Hospital, John MacBain last Monday asked for the appointment of E. B. Hinman of this city. The appointment will be a good one for the advisory board and for the hospital.

Mr. Hinman can well be counted among Redwood City's most actively progressive citizens, and his appointment to this responsible body is in acknowledgement of many services rendered to the community by this man. In the Chamber of Commerce he has always taken an active part, even when the rest of us felt rather discouraged over the future of that body. But he was responsible in a large measure in putting the Chamber of Commerce back on the map and served a successful term as president.

Seeing the need of a service club in this place he gathered a few of his friends together and they formed the nucleus of the Kiwanis Club. In this club he was the first president and has always been one of the most active members. In every civic movement, Mr. Hinman can be found in the forefront. In every organization which has for its object the improvement of the town, he will be found taking a leading part.

Redwood City is fortunate in having a man like E. B. Hinman among its business men and the board of supervisors should be commended for making so wise an appointment to a body which will have so much influence in the destiny of that great humanitarian institution, the Community Hospital.

THE DEADLY GUN AGAIN

WE have spoken editorially of a danger so apparent that it would hardly seem to merit mention, yet one that nearly every week results in the death of one or more persons. This is giving children guns to play with. Another instance brings this again to mind. A young woman in Chicago was shot and killed this week by a sixteen-months-old baby with a gun which she had herself given to the child. In San Francisco one boy shot a playmate with a rifle he had been given for his birthday. Such instances are so common that they hardly need mention, and yet parents continue to give their children deadly weapons for playthings.

Even here in town frequently we see bands of small boys with rifles shooting where the houses are thickly settled. A small boy is at best a poor shot, and if a stray bullet does not occasionally do some damage it is mere luck. Guns are instruments of destruction and the parent who puts one in the hands of a child is taking chances which we would not care to assume.

CARELESSNESS WITH FIRE INEXCUSABLE

THE fire demon is taking an increasing toll every year in this country, on account of careless folks in the mountains. They ride in comfortable automobiles throw smoking stubs of cigars and cigarettes into the brush and leave live coals in their campfires. Such habits are dangerous even in the city, where there are paved streets, tiled floors and electric stoves; but they are fatal to the future of our forests.

Fires swept over thousands of acres of timber land last summer and fall. The time of year is approaching again when such fires may be expected. Every citizen who goes into the mountains should have impressed upon his mind in some manner the tremendous fire responsibilities that rest upon him along the roads, trails and in the camps.

INCORPORATION UP TO SUPERVISORS

June 22 is the day set by the Board of Supervisors for the election which will decide whether San Carlos shall be incorporated as a town of the sixth class or not. The order calling for an election on this date was issued by the board Monday following the second hearing of the petition by residents of San Carlos asking for incorporation.

The hearing had been contined from the previous meeting, at which time a number of objections had been filed by owners of land included in the proposed corporate town. A. J. Stebbenne, representing the proponents of incorporation announced Monday that since the previous meeting that practically all of the protesting parties had been seen and their differences adjusted. A revised map was presented in behalf of the Morse Seed Co. again appeared before the board and stated that he still protested the inclusion of the lands of his client in the proposed incorporation. Lee T. Ross ,attorney representing the Sol Koff Realty Co. stated that his client was willing to be included in the incorporation if all of the territory lying between his property and the center of the town was also included. In this he referred to the property of the C. C. Morse Seed Co., which is on the highway between th Koff land and the town of San Carlos.

Albert Mansfield, city attorney of Redwood City, who had previously protested the inclusion of the White Oaks tract in the proposed incorporation of San Carlos, stated that the present map of the proposed incorporation was satisfactory to himself and to the board of trustees of Redwood City. A letter was received from Will Chipman, trustee of the Phelps estate in San Caros, asking that a tract of marsh land belonging to that estate be omited from the incorporation.

Following the consideration of the incoporation question in San Carlos, the board took up the proposed incorporation of Menlo Park. In this the proponents were represented by Attorney Jas. T. O'Keefe, who presented the petition for incorporation, and asked that the clerk of the board read the same. Following the reading of the petition, Supervisor MacBain announced that the matter would be laid oer for two weeks.

O'Keefe requested that as there had been some protests filed in this matter that they be read at this meeting, as he said, that the differences exisiting between protestants and proponents might be settled before the next meeting and the matter settled at the one meeting. To this Chairman MacBain consented and a number of protests were read together with a number of letters from residents of Menlo Park, who had not signed the petition, urging the boad to call an election and include their land in the incorporation. The matter will be taken up more fully in two weeks.

Cleaning Without Odor by the

F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded bp our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. t is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening gasoline smell in your clothes.

JACKIE COOGAN IS JUST BORN ACTOR

His Father Cites Making "Rag Man" Scene as Example

There's a lot of argument about acting on the screen and acting on the stage—which is the finer art? "Acting, if it is good," says Jack Coogan, Sr., "is good on the stage or on the screen. Acting is an art. As to whether it is more difficult to act convincingly on the screen or on the stage, that is a matter to be decided only by individual cases."

Jackie's father then proceeded to explain what he meant.

In "The Rag Man," Jackie's latest picture for Metro-Goldwyn release, which is coming to the Sequoia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, June 8 and 9, there is a scene in which Jackie, as Tim Kelly, watches a limousine round the corner into heavy traffic and sees how it is nearly run down by a rapidly moving and heavily laden truck.

As the picture is shown to Jackie's Millions of admirers, the entire sequence of events flows in logical continuity. The beholder sees the near-accident just as Tim is supposed to see it, shudders with Tim's horror and rejoices with Tim's relief when the danger is over. But few there are in any audience who reflect on the amazing art of little Jackie Coogan, whose performance of shock, horror, relief and dubious hope was accomplished utterly uninspired by anything the picture audience sees. When the look of horror overspread the lad's face, looking towards the corner at the progress of the limousine, there was nothing really to excite him except a clatter of abandoned "sets" on the old Metro lot; when the succession of reactions were revealed upon the little boy's face, he had nothing except his imagination to suggest them.

It all comes from an inner consciousness that unerringly tells Jackie how to respond to all the emotions. Jackie conjures in his imagination the facts and then responds to them with the histrionic skill of a mature genius.

"The Rag Man" was written by Willard Mack and directed by Eddie Cline.

A matinee will be given Tuesday afternoon at 3:15.

SEASTROM'S NEW FILM ON ROYALTY

"Confessions of a Queen" Screen Version of Daudet Story

"Confessions of a Queen," Victor Seastrom's film version of the novel by Alphinse Daudet, "Kings in Exile," is coming to the Sequoia Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, June 10 and 11. This is Seastrom's latest picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and coming on the heels of his extra-ordinary success with "He Woh Gets Slapped," assumes unusual interest for all picture-goers.

"Confessions of a Queen" marks the revival of the acting team of Alice Terry and Lewis Stone, who appeared together in such productions as "The Prisoner of Zenda," and "Scaramouche." They, of course, play the roles of the King and Queen John Bowers, also a leading man of importance; Helen d'Algy, who made her film debut ,with Rudolph Valentino in "The Sainted Devil;" Frankie Darro, the boy actor; Eugenie Besserer, Joseph Dowling and and many others make up a large cast.

REPORT OF HORTICULTURAL COMMISSIONER

The annual meeting of the State Association of County Horticultural Commissioners, which I attended, was held May 12th and 13th at Eureka. A very interesting program was provided consisting of a number of papers on new methods and materials for insect pest and disease control and a discussion by representatives of the State Department of Agriculture, of changes in the law relative to the work of the commissioners. We also listened to a talk by Mr. Keyes of the Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture, on the eradication of rats, the spread of which is assuming alarming proportions in certains sections of the state.

The Colma Vegetable Grower's Association has established a potato auction at Colma and it has been necessary for this office to inspect the various lots of potatoes offered for sale to see that they were not deceptively packed. At the beginning we found a number of boxes packed unlawfully but the growers now understand what is allowable and I do not anticipate any further difficulty.

Numerous complaints havo been received recently in regard to mildew on plants, particularly on apple trees. While mildew can be controlled on some plants, such as roses, at the time, unfortunately spraying at so late a period does not effect apple mildew. The only way to prevent this disease is to make repeated applications of sulphur preparations the first of which should be made when the leaves appear.

Some damage has been done to crops in this county by the late rains but on the whole they have been a benefit, especially to those crops which are in the nature of permanent plantings.

Nursery shipments for the season are about over but 308 shipments being inspected this month. 29 shipments of 23,897 plants were from California and 56 shipments of 1,302 plants from outside the state. Total plants inspected 25,199.

Respectfully submitted,

A. W. TATE, JR.
Horticultural Commissioner San Mateo County.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

Mrs. Lillian Hopkins Pond, young San Francisco divorcee, whose engagement to Aubrey Lee, a recent graduate of Princeton, has been announced, is well known in Menlo Park. Her girlhood was spent at the James D. O'Kane home here with her parents. Her uncle, E. W. Hopkins, lived across the street from her home. Some of her time was spent at that palatial domicile. Mrs. Pond is a strikingly pretty blonde. Her marriage to Edward Bates Pond in 1923 was a brilliant social affair. Mrs. Pond was divorced a year ago and since that time the young woman has passed much of her time in the east, where she met young Lee. Both young people are well known on the peninsula.

President Sproule, the new head of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, has promoted Thomas Ahearn to the position of assistant manager of the concern's road in northern California, with headquarters at Sacramento. For some years he has been the superintendent of the Sacramento division. About 12 years ago Mr. Ahearn was the superintendent of the coast division and resided in the home now occupied by J. H. Sullivan here. Mr. Ahearn is a self-made man, having begun his railroad career as a section hand, working up through the grades by hard work and with an energy that spoke success. His friends predict that Mr. Ahearn will some day become the general manager of the state for the company.

George Hatfield, the attorney, has been recommended by the American Legion for the office of U. S. Attorney in place of Sterling Carr, is well known in Menlo Park, where he spent a portion of his childhood. His father, the late George Hatfield, was a familiar figure here in the later seventies and early eighties when he was agent for all the Robert Johnson properties comprising all the land used by Camp Fremont during the war. He was a dashing, handsome young man in those days, who made friends by the score. He had an office in the city but spent much of his time here looking over the big Johnson estate. Later through wise speculation Mr. Hatfield became wealthy. A parcel of land bought for a few thousand dollars at Woodside was sold during the war for $76,000. Other investments at Oakland brought still larger profits. George is the only son. He went over seas with the A. E. F. and saw active service. He is prominent in Legionary circles and during the last campaign organized the war veterans for President Coolidge.

The engagement of Miss Margaret Duff to Mr. Cornelius F. Supple, Jr., of South Pasadena was announced last week. Miss Duff is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Duff, formerly of Menlo Park. She is a graduate of College of Notre Dame and Stanford University. Mr. Supple is a former Stanford man and is at present in business in San Francisco. The wedding will take place in the late summer.

Leaders in the contest for the honor of ruling over the circus and horse show to be given June 20 at the Menlo Park Country Club are the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Roth, Lurline and Berenice. Each little girl has 500 votes. The standing of the other candidates follow: Frances King, 50; Ethel Schwabacher, 100; Patsy Roos, 100; Edna Lapham, 100; Amy Bowles, 100; Rowena Dunphy, 100; and Ena Douglass, 100.

The contest will probably become exciting betwen the close of school next week and the picnic supper June 12, at which final selection of the queen will be made.

Forty-five boxes have already been taken for the circus. Among the most recent reservations are those of Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. Daniel Jackling, Mrs. Rudolph Spreckels, Mrs. Frank King, Mrs. George Roos, Mrs. Atholl McBean, Mrs. Warren Spieker, Mrs. J. A. Levensaler, Mrs. Roger Lapham, Mrs. Alexis Ehrman, Mrs. W. W. Stettheimer, Mrs. R. D. Robbins, Mrs. Samuel Knight, W. H. Kierstadt, and Albert Schwabacher.

The new sanitary district that was organized at North Palo Alto last week will connect with the old government sewer that was constructed from Camp Fremont to the bay by popular subscription during the war. Since the war it has not been used except that portion from the base hospital to the bay. The new sanitary district will connect near the base hospital. The government is anxious that some one in authority take charge of the system and it is now engaged in a movement to have that done. It is willing to take care of that portion used by the hospital but does not want to assume the responsibility of the other end.

George Walsh has sold his acre land on MacBain avenue, Atherton, to a San Francisco business man who is to erect a neat bungalow at once.

Marco Fracchia has opened a shellfish emporium on the highway, near the San Francisquito creek, fish not caught in the stream, but in the bay where the creek empties. Two beautiful young co-eds were eating oysters in the place a few evenings ago. One asked the other if she ever found a pearl in an oyster. "No, was the prompt reply, "but I once got a diamond from a lobster."

The petition for the incorporation of Menlo Park was presented to the Board of Supervisors last Monday. After the elimination of the Hopkins acreage, comprising over 200 acres from the proposed district, action on the petition was deferred for two weeks when most likely the prayer of the petition with the elimination will be granted and election called for some time in July. The territory proposed to be incorporated has an assessed valuation of nearly a million dollars.

The Improvement Club dance will take place in Duff & Doyle hall this evening. It will continue until 2 o'clock. A good time is assured all who may attend. The committe of arrangements will see to it that all enjoy themselves.

Surveyors began subdividing the old Felton estate this week. The property is to be subdivided in half acre tracts and placed on the market at once. The subdivision is to be called Felton Park. It consists of about twenty acres.

Southern Pacific Railroad Company's surveyors began a resurvey of the right of way of the proposed electric line skirting the foot hills, back of Menlo Park, this week. The company bought these rights of way many years ago for the construction of an electric road to connect with the San Jose system, but never started the work. Much speculation is rife concerning the present move. Some believe construction work on the road, so long delayed, will begin very soon.

The home of the Misses O'Dea on Oak Grove avenue has been leased to William Tylward, for some time superintendent of St. Catherine's Home in Stanford Park. The Misses O'Dea are residing in Palo Alto.

Dan Powell, an old timer in these parts suffered a paralytic stroke at the home of J. J. Murray in Stanford Park on Thursday. He was removed to the Community hospital at Beresford. Mr. Powell had been employed for Mr. Murray for some time. He is well known on the Peninsula.

The senior class of girls of Notre Dame Convent at Belmont enjoyed a picnic at Long Bridge in the Santa Cruz montains on Thursday. Among the happy picknickers were several young ladies from Menlo Park.

Miss Loava Carter, the pretty nurse, has returned from a vacation spent at Yosemite Valley. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Melbourne Carter of Menlo Park. Miss Carter spends the greater portion of her time in San Francisco.

On April 30 in the Palo Alto hospital there was born to Mr. and Mrs. P. H. McGarr a baby boy. Mr. McGarr is the superintendent of the grounds of St. Patrick's Seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. William Houghteling have leased the Arthur Watson place in Menlo Park for the summer season. Mrs. Houghteling has recently returned from Dansville, Ohio, where she was called by the death of her father, Ernest Le Seure.

June, and the Telephone

ROMANTIC June, with its weddings and graduations, brings many urgings to the American heart to be off to some distant place.

Why not go, when the campus calls to the colors, when sons and daughters want your presence at commencements, when you feel the stir to be somewhere else, as audience or actor?

With long distance to serve, you can be wherever you want to be. There are 16,000,000 telephones in the nation-wide communications service built for your use. One of them is always near to send back decisions and desires to home or office, or carry words of love or greeting to places that call your thoughts.

The romance of life is in the air, and the great romance of modern days—universal telephone service—is yours to further it.
